WELCOME MESSAGE

DEPARTMENT CHAIRPERSON

Dr Jason Cheung

Department Chairperson
Clinical Associate Professor
Department of Orthopaedics and Traumatology
The University of Hong Kong

It is my pleasure to welcome you all to the 2022 HKU Webinar Series on Orthopaedic Controversies. Despite various constraints because of COVID and scheduling, we continue to maintain our mission to educate the Orthopaedic community with this special educational event.

Over the months of November and December of 2022, our department will bring to you six webinars hosted by different subspecialties of Orthopaedics covering contemporary viewpoints of management dilemmas. These include management of patellar instability, debates for surgical approach and implant selection in hip and knee replacement surgery, dilemmas in treatment for paediatric trauma and limb length discrepancy, debates for central cord syndrome, spinal metastasis and degenerative spondylolisthesis, intricacies of paralytic hand reconstruction, and unresolved issues in melanoma management. The faculty consists of experts in these specific fields not only from our department, but also locally and internationally.

The organizing committee has worked wonders in providing such a rich educational platform not only for Orthopaedic surgeons, but also for general practitioners and allied health professionals.

It is with great pleasure that we welcome you to the HKU Webinar Series on Orthopaedic Controversies.

The COVID-19 pandemic has resulted in unprecedented restrictions across the globe but it has also provided opportunities for refinement and innovation. Hosting this series of webinars in lieu of our annual Orthopaedic Forum provides the opportunity to reach a wider audience and gives our participants ease of access.

As in all things in Medicine, the answer is never black or white. Our webinar series covers some of the most intriguing controversies in the field of Orthopaedics today. Examining these unresolved issues highlights the underlying fundamental principles as well as the most up-to-date scientific evidence. In turn, through this series, we hope that our participants may take home new information or consolidate their current knowledge.

We would like to acknowledge the amazing work of the Organizing Committee in making these webinars possible.

We would also like to thank our speakers and moderators, especially those from other departments and specialties, for sharing their knowledge and expertise.

Our gratitude goes to our sponsors for their unwavering support and last but not least, we would like to express our sincere thanks to you, our participant, for joining us. We hope that you will find this webinar series inspiring, stimulating and valuable, regardless whether you are a General Practitioner, orthopaedic trainee or super-specialist. We look forward to meeting you in person next year.
