

Dr. Dai Yu is an orthopedic and joint surgeon at Shenzhen Ninth People's Hospital. He obtained a master's degree in orthopedic surgery from Zunyi Medical University in 2010 and has more than ten years of experience in the field of sports medicine. In 2016, he further developed his expertise in the Department of Orthopedic and Joint Surgery at the First Affiliated Hospital of the Third Military Medical University of China (Southwestern Hospital). Dr Dai has started working as sports fellow under Dr TM Wong and Dr Kevin Fok in the Department of Orthopaedics and Traumatology of The University of Hong Kong from 01 January 2024 to 31 March 2024.